

Well Child Care

Well-child check-ups are an integral part of managing your child's health needs. The Pediatric Center makes every effort to follow the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) recommended schedule for well child visits.

Following the more frequent well-child check-ups between birth and 18 months, the AAP recommends well visits at 24 months, 30 months and annually thereafter.

If your child participates in sports, camps, or some other programs, a physical exam may be required within the past 12 months.
